I can't hear anything on Butte Local so if you feel that there's something worthy to put into the Signal app for SA, go for it!

Update on Camp Creek Rd fire from Engine 213: Still holding with retardant and bucket drops. 1-2 acres. Will have to hike in a few miles or all crews be flown in. Most equipment still in staging.

✓ I'll paste into Signal. Thanks [REDACTED]

This is ridiculous...I've received 3 phone calls from the HAWC supervisors on this fire stating that executive is absolutely freaking out over this Dixie Fire. I told them if we're not freaked out, they shouldn't be freaked out! Oh, and rarely do we ever get freaked out! 🍀
- [REDACTED] 6:53 PM
I know - [REDACTED] called me because MQ called him and the HAWC didn't know anything

Doesn't meet criteria for reporting and I'm sure not going to be the one to reach out.

FYI only - from [REDACTED] - Update - fire is right next to our Tline - CALFIRE Type 3 engines are too large to make access so CALFIRE has tasked E213 to make access to the fire for perimeter control

Wow! That's unusual but great use of available resources!

Do you know if they'll also be sending a T-line Tman in with them?

[REDACTED] 7:07 PM
Yes I think so / think they are charging the lead with [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] 7:07 PM
We probably won't hear from [REDACTED] and E213 for awhile but I am monitoring BTU local

They are in a big hole (canyon) LOL

[REDACTED] 8:03 PM
That's a big hole too!

Just got word from E213 that they are released and returning to quarters. Apparently CALFIRE made access

[REDACTED] 8:18 PM

✓ they have not yet made access but just got off the phone with [REDACTED] regarding E213
